

Catering to Student Diversity

Students with varied abilities and interest are identified with the help of Mentors, from the brief profile submitted by mentees. The mentors take the responsibility of communicating the same to the teacher in charge and HoD. Every course teacher of all programmes spends a few teaching hours in reviving the basics of the respective courses. This helps them to identify advanced learners, slow learners and students from vernacular mediums and rural backgrounds.

| Advanced Learners | Slow Learners |
|---------------------------------|---|
| Advanced Courses - 12 | Remedial classes – Nearly 500 classes conducted every year. |
| Paper Publications - 20 | Bridge Courses conducted-12 |
| Participation in Conferences-40 | Communication skills classes - 60 classes each semester |
| Paper presentations -20 | Study hours daily for slow learners |
| Peer group teaching | Collaborative learning |

Study Hours

Number of classes are conducted for the slow learners by the course teacher in-charge to fine tune their skills in the respective area. Various methods and strategies are adopted to make them understand and perform better. Almost every day the last hour in the time-table is allotted to the slow learners to make them learn better through class tests and other methods of learning.

Communication skill Classes

As communication skills are among the most in-demand skills for employers, special care is taken for the successful future of the students. Students from rural background are given special care to get acquainted with English language. A few special classes are conducted for them to strengthen their knowledge of grammar and basic writing skills

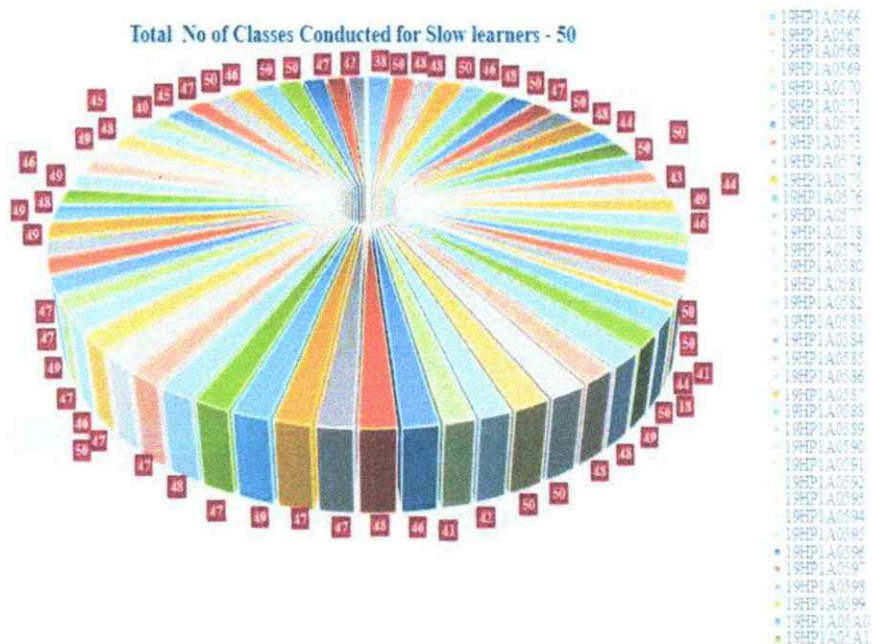

Slow Learners are provided number of opportunities to watch short videos that model communication skills. Language games are conducted with a focus on task-based activities that foster critical thinking to help them learn and speak better. They are also given an exposure to learn basic sounds and vocabulary related to the subject.
